Saudi Projects Market

A multibillion dollar pipeline

Massive construction projects in Saudi Arabia, particularly around social and transport infrastructure, offer tremendous opportunities valued at multibillion dollars for contractors and investors. The market is set to witness a pick-up in project activity as increasing private and public investments keep boosting the projects' numbers and values.

Ongoing Projects by Sector

Number and Value of Projects by Sector

Why Exhibit

Opportunities at the Show

- ▶ The number of ongoing mega projects means that many multinational firms have the chance to establish a presence in the country
- ▶ Riyadh's strategic geographical location in the gulf region allows it to cater to the entire area
- ▶ Increasing private investment provides opportunities for large foreign contractors to increase their involvement in the country
- ▶ As other construction industries in the Gulf stagnate, construction companies look to Saudi Arabia for opportunities
- ▶ Saudi Build is the biggest construction show in the Kingdom in terms of space, number of exhibitors, international participation and number of visitors
- ▶ Saudi Build is the capital's only construction show.

Construction Sector in Saudi Arabia

The Largest Construction Industry in the Middle East

Saudi Arabia's construction industry is expected to continue its growth in the next few years with the value of planned and ongoing projects estimated at over USD 1 trillion, covering transport, infrastructure, utilities, education, healthcare and other sectors. Fueled by strong demographic growth, high oil prices and a government-backed capital investment program, Saudi Arabia's construction market looks to continue its dominance in the region as the biggest market for some time to come. This continues to give a major boost to the international private sectors, offsetting some of the remaining global economic gloom.
